BA Honours (Journalism)

The Department of Journalism, Film and Television in the School of Communication at the University of Johannesburg invites applications for the Journalism Honours degree for 2011. The Honours degree in Journalism is a multifaceted programme that gives students a solid grounding in the most important trends in Communication and Media theories, focusing specifically on the latest trends in Journalism. UJ Journalism gives students the practical and theoretical skills to work as journalists on multiple media platforms. Located in the heart of South Africa's media hub, UJ Journalism offers students the opportunity to be taught by some of the country's top journalists and industry specialists.

The course can be taken over one year full time or over two years part time.

For further information on the course, application forms and information on application procedures please contact the academic administrator, Mrs Emmarentia Breytenbach, on 011 559 4526 or via email at ebreytenbach@uj.ac.za.

Applications must be submitted before 31 October for the 2011 academic year.

UJ offers one of the best honours bursary schemes in the country. What's in it for you?

Not only will your tuition fees be paid in full but you will receive a generous stipend to use as you see fit.

Any student registering for the first time for a full-time honours degree in 2011 may qualify*
