PROGRAMME OVERVIEW

Practical psychometry
You will do a full-time, six-month unpaid internship.
We can place you in a pre-approved internship, or you can arrange your own internship. If you arrange your own internship, we will have to approve it.

Practical psychometry theory
During your six-month internship, you will be given time off to attend compulsory contact sessions that focus on these theory and skills:
- Psychometrics, bias and cross-cultural aspects of assessment
- Psychological assessment
- Assessment with children
- Instruments used in HR management settings
- Test feedback and report writing
- WAIS training
- 16PF accreditation training

ENTRY REQUIREMENTS
To apply for this programme:
- You must have an honours degree in Psychology or Industrial Psychology or a BPsych Degree;
- Your degree must include an assessment module like Psychological Assessment.
