Leslie holds a Masters Degree in Development Studies obtained from the University of Johannesburg (2018). He has tutored and mentored students for 5 consecutive years in various UJ Academic Departments. He is a former SRC member occupying the position of Academic and Quality Officer and Treasurer at UJ APK campus. He was also appointed by the university management in 2018 to be part of the Student Advisory Council. Leslie's ability to work well with people and lead others resulted in great success as a tutor and SRC member where he fairly represented students in academic forums, disciplinary hearings, NSFAS challenges and academic exclusions (F5 & F7 Appeals) with a high rate of success. Leslie has several years of experience working for International NGOs such as Room to Read, and UNICEF as a research, monitoring, and evaluation specialist for Early Grade Reading Studies (EGRS). He is currently an Operations Manager at 52nd Holdings, an insurance brokerage company. His experience in working with cross-functional, international teams has taught him the importance of building trusted relationships and inspiring a shared project vision. Leslie's passion for skills development and desire to improve learning outcomes in South Africa has enabled him to become a constituent registered facilitator, assessor, and moderator for various SETAs. As an Education Training and Development Practitioner, he also designs and develops learning material, quality management systems as well as facilitates training provider accreditations with the QCTO and SETAs.
