The Future
Reimagined

The University of Johannesburg (UJ) provides a wide range of continuing education programmes (CEPs) and short learning programmes (SLPs), which range from the general formative and professional to the vocational (career focused) and technological. These SLPs are designed to address national, regional and local imperatives, to support the transformation of the higher education system and thereby to advance the vision of the University of Johannesburg (UJ) to be an international university of choice, anchored in Africa, dynamically shaping the future.

The provision of SLPs is particularly responsive to the mission of the University, which is to inspire its community to transform and serve humanity through innovation and the collaborative pursuit of knowledge as stated in its mission statement. This requires quality programmes and a commitment to offering SLPs that have national legitimacy, credibility and well understood academic, professional and career orientated outcomes. The provision of SLPs at UJ is aligned to regulatory requirement for these types of programmes in the HE sector.
