Person, Property and Contract: Right in Bourgeois Society

Agemir Bavaresco

(Pontifical Catholic University of Rio Grande do Sul [PUCRS], Brazil)

.. Abstract

The theoretical deficit of Hegel's Philosophy of Right in general is that the juridical concepts of person and property correspond to the abstract will. Hegel describes the juridical description of the legal system of the modern state as the development of free will that legitimizes the asymmetry of civil society in its socioeconomic inequalities.

Agemir Bavaresco obtained his PhD in Philosophy from the University Paris I (Pantheon-Sorbonne) in 1997. He is currently a professor in the Graduate Program in Philosophy at the Pontifical Catholic University of Rio Grande do Sul (PUCRS). His research is based on an interdisciplinary approach in the areas of Modern Philosophy, Social Philosophy and Brazilian Political Philosophy, and is dedicated to updating the topic, 'Contradictions of Democracy and Public Opinion'.
