

LANGUAGE, CONCEPTS AND SCIENCE

Workshop: African Centre for Epistemology and the Philosophy of Science

16 September 2019

Humanities Boardroom, University of Johannesburg

WHEN	WHO	INSTITUTION	TALK
8	Ryan Nefdt	University of Cape Town	A Puzzle about Compositionality in Machines
8.45	Kyle Blumberg	University of Johannesburg	Beliefs, Desires and Descriptions
9.30	Break
9.45	Chad Harris	University of Johannesburg	The Transformation of the Concept of Validity
10.30	Alex Broadbent	University of Johannesburg	Evolution, Reasoning, and Causal Nihilism
11.15	Break
11.30	Edouard Machery	University of Pittsburgh	Kinds or Tails.
12.15	Closing discussions
12.30	Close

The African Centre for Epistemology and Philosophy of Science is housed in the Department of Philosophy at the University of Johannesburg. ACEPS fosters intra-African and global conversation in the areas of Epistemology and Philosophy of Science by bringing African insights, questions and values into meaningful conversation with other philosophical traditions.