UNDERGRADUATE LIBRARY INFORMATION LITERACY TRAINING

2022

Getting to know the library

As a student you need to use a variety of information resources to successfully complete academic tasks. We introduce you to the library, its facilities, services and collections.

The training sessions will be conducted via the online virtual platform Blackboard Collaborate Ultra, via the students' learning management system.

The Blackboard Collaborate Ultra link is the link to join the session. We suggest that you join the session 10 minutes before the session starts.

How to find and use information in a legal and ethical manner

It is extremely important to use credible information coming from trustworthy sources of information. By doing so, you need to know how to use the library's electronic resources and how to apply reference techniques to give credit to a variety of sources of information. We show you how to use the library's electronic resources and to avoid plagiarism by referencing correctly.

The training sessions will be conducted via the online virtual platform Blackboard Collaborate Ultra, via the students' learning management system.

The Blackboard Collaborate Ultra link is the link to join the session. We suggest that you join the session 10 minutes before the session starts.
