The Future
Reimagined

The University of Johannesburg (UJ) provides a wide range of continuing education programmes (CEPs) and short learning programmes (SLPs), which range from the general formative and professional to the vocational (career focused) and technological. These SLPs are designed to address national, regional and local imperatives, to support the transformation of the higher education system and thereby to advance the vision of the University of Johannesburg (UJ) to be an international university of choice, anchored in Africa, dynamically shaping the future.

The provision of SLPs is particularly responsive to the mission of the University, which is to inspire its community to transform and serve humanity through innovation and the collaborative pursuit of knowledge as stated in its mission statement. This requires quality programmes and a commitment to offering SLPs that have national legitimacy, credibility and well understood academic, professional and career orientated outcomes. The provision of SLPs at UJ is aligned to regulatory requirement for these types of programmes in the HE sector.

Application process for students:

- Applications are online and align with UJ's application processes.
- Typically, SLPs will run between 10-14 weeks (semester length) and these will have potentially 2 intakes per year: Common deadlines: The closing dates for application for January – May intake is 28 November while for July – November intake is 28 June.

Registration:

- 1.1 Registration is in accordance with faculty-specific procedures and may occur throughout the academic calendar.
- 1.2 Registration fees for SLPs are programme-specific and are determined in consultation with the Finance Division and relevant faculties and role players.
- 1.3 Students registered for a credit-bearing SLP (i.e. that is derived from an accredited qualification) are permitted to register for additional credit- and non-credit bearing SLPs, subject to approval by the Vice-Deans of the relevant faculties.
- 1.4 Cancellation of short course registrations and the relevant refund procedures are as determined by student finances.
