

INVITATION

The Postgraduate School Supervision Enrichment Spring School University of Johannesburg 6 – 8 September 2022

The Postgraduate Supervision Enrichment Spring School offered by the Research Capacity Development Unit will provide enrichment and extension to UJ and national colleagues. The three-day programme will be facilitated by experienced UJ academics and supervisors in research and supervision.

The Spring School programme will explore the professional identity of supervisors, their observations & experiences of work-life balance and stress that comes with postgraduate research supervision. It will determine ways of developing tactics of resilience and well-being to overcome pressures and stress, which will lead to positive effects for supervisors and students.

The programme which includes a keynote address is comprised of interactive Masterclasses on key aspects of supervisor enrichment and development. This is to better equip supervisors to oversee and supervise postgraduate research. There will be opportunities for networking, discussion, and resource distribution.

Enrolment is limited to 55 candidates in order to provide enough time and space for engagement and to encourage a community of practice.
