Day 1

Mikumi National Park

Tucked away in Tanzania's Southern Highlands, Mikumi National Park is one of the country's hidden gems. As the fourth-largest national park in Tanzania, Mikumi offers a raw and unfiltered safari experience, far from the crowds of the more frequented northern parks.

Expect to encounter giraffes, elephants, lions, leopards, buffaloes, and crocodiles, all roaming freely among majestic baobab trees, light woodlands, and open savannah-like plains. Mikumi is also renowned as one of the best places in East Africa to spot the elusive African wild dog.

The journey begins when you arrive at the SGR Morogoro Station, where a comfortable 2-hour minivan transfer takes you to Mikumi. Upon arrival, you'll head straight into the wild for the morning portion of your safari adventure.

At midday, you'll pause for a well-earned lunch, then continue your safari drive into the afternoon, soaking up the sights and sounds of this pristine ecosystem.

In the late afternoon, you'll exit the park for a unique cultural encounter with the local Maasai community—an immersive experience that offers insight into one of East Africa's most iconic cultures.

Afterward, you'll be transferred back to Morogoro Station to catch your train back to Dar es Salaam, taking with you unforgettable memories of Tanzania's hidden wilderness.

Chill out on beautiful beaches and visit quaint old Stone Town on Zanzibar Island.

Zanzibar Stone Town

Smell the spices, admire the architecture, and let yourself be carried away by the Muslim call to prayer as you explore Zanzibar Stone Town.

Boat Trip, Changuu (Prison) Island

There's so much to enjoy about a boat excursion to Changuu Island. The sea breeze through your hair as you cross Zanzibar Bay with the historic Stone Town waterfront behind you, keeping an eye open for the occasional passing school of dolphins. The island itself, with its well-preserved late-19th-century quarantine center and open-air sanctuary protecting a group of giant tortoises introduced from the Seychelles. Then, finally, tides and weather permitting, swimming, snorkeling and a seafood barbecue on a narrow tidal sandbar known as Nakupenda Island. It's a great day out!
